Edition 161 – 2019

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS – 19 OCTOBER 2019

Councillors play an important community leadership role, and being on a council is a way you can make sure community perspectives are heard and considered. Candidate nominations open will open 5 September 2019, and close on 12 September 2019. That's only 8 days. If you are considering nominating for the 2019 Local Government Elections, there are some things you need to know and do.

Eligibility

In order to nominate, a person must be registered as a voter for the district in which they are standing as a candidate.

For Residents: The Commission maintains the residents roll. Individuals can confirm their enrolment status at the Commission's website www.elections.wa.gov.au.

Non-Resident Owners and Occupiers: Non-resident owners and occupiers rolls are maintained by individual Local Governments. Candidates in this category need to check with the Shire Administration officer to confirm their eligibility.

Online Induction

Becoming a councillor is a big decision and it's important you are aware of what your obligations and commitments will be, if you are elected. This year, new laws have been introduced which makes it compulsory for all candidates who are nominating in a local government elections, to complete an online induction via the Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries website: <https://www.dsr.wa.gov.au/site-elements/dlgsc/local-government/Local-government-candidate-induction>

You will be asked to declare that you have completed the online induction when filling out your nomination form, and it is an offence to make false or misleading statements on the nomination form. The induction takes no longer than one hour to complete, so please make sure you leave enough time to do so.

Topics covered in the induction include:

- About government in Australia
- A closer look at local government
- Local government decision making process
- The role of a councillor
- Relationship between councillors and staff
- What you will need to do as a councillor
- Decisions you might make as a councillor
- Qualities and skills of effective councillors
- Other things that are helpful to know
- Advice from the WA Electoral Commission
- Why stand for council?
- What should you do now?
- Support for candidates

If you have any difficulties in completing the induction, please contact the Department of Local Government, Sport and Cultural Industries via lgtraining@dlgsc.wa.gov.au or 61 8 9492 9762.

Nominations

After you have confirmed our eligibility and undertaken the Induction, you are now ready to nominate. Nominations can only be made to the Returning Officer during the designated nomination period. Keep an eye out for more information about this in the coming weeks as we continue to step you through the process.

If you need any assistance or have any questions throughout the process, please be in touch Judy Stewart on 9831 2400. We are happy to help.

This event will not proceed if registrations are not received.

SPRINGHAVEN

How grateful we are for the amazing community we live in!!

Our residents have had a fantastic couple of weeks with friends, family and the amazing volunteers keeping Springhaven buzzing!

To start off we had a beautiful morning tea with those that we love most in celebration of International Friendship Day. Each resident invited someone special in their life to join them for a lovely high-tea. Our recreation room was full of laughter as everyone enjoyed a truly happy morning together. It was a wonderful event and one that we will make sure to do next year.

We also had our annual “Christmas in July” Luncheon – actually in August!! Our wonderful volunteers were invited to celebrate with our residents and staff so we could show our appreciation of all the hard work they do to support Springhaven. We are so grateful to everyone who takes the time to come to Springhaven to enrich the lives of our residents.

The residents and guests enjoyed a yummy Christmas feast along with bubbles and lots of noisy Christmas crackers. Everyone left happy and full!

If anyone has a special talent, plays a musical instrument or if you have a special pet you would like to bring in for pet therapy with residents – please contact Alex on 9831 2800.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND TOURISM

RENOVATIONS TO THE KOJONUP VISITOR CENTRE

We would like to thank everyone for their patience with the recent closure of the Kojonup Visitor Centre to undertake works as part of the revamp to the Visitor Centre. The new floors are in and look great and although there's still some finishing touches still required the new look is starting to take shape.

The improvements undertaken in the past 2 years at the Kodja Place Precinct including the installation of the cool room, additional storage, energy efficient lighting, centrifugal fans in the Story Place, the new visitor services counter and electronic display in the foyer have been made possible through grant funding from Tourism WA's Regional Visitor Centre Sustainability Grant Program.

TICKETS NOW ON SALE: COMEDY GALA

Tickets are now on sale from The Kodja Place Kojonup Visitor Centre for the Comedy Gold's Gala Show which is touring WA. Here for only one night, you will need to be quick to purchase your tickets to see this highly popular comedy show.

Back by popular demand the Comedy Gold members, now in its sixth consecutive year, will be providing a hilarious line-up of award winning, versatile and original comedians. Tickets are just $35 each and pre-show drinks, food and snacks will be available for purchase.

Luke Heggie

Award winning comedian Luke Heggie is this year's headline act, who is fast becoming one of Australia's most in demand and recognisable stand-up comedians. His no-nonsense one liners delivered in a dry, dead pan manner quickly gained praise after his debut into the comedy world by winning Melbourne International Comedy Festivals 2010 Raw Comedy and jetting off to Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

"...Deadpan genius... one of the funniest stand-ups around."
- Sydney Morning Herald

Khaled Khalafalla

This year's MC will be Khaled Khalafalla who in the last three years has landed roles in Upper Middle Bogan, Ali's Wedding, Utopia and That's Not My Dog which have earned him critical acclaim and legions of new fans. Khaled has performed his powerhouse stand-up comedy around the world - to royalty in the Middle East, Australian troops in Afghanistan and to the invitation-only New York Comedy Festival. He's also toured with Jim Jefferies on several of his recent Australian tours; opening Jim's biggest show in front of ten thousand people at Perth Arena in 2016.

★★★★ "One of comedy's hottest talents, a must see."
- The West Australian

Leigh Qurban

Born and raised in Adelaide, Leigh Qurban commenced his stand-up comedy career in 2011 and quickly rose through the ranks featuring and hosting with his observational, relatable and, at times quirky, material around the country. In 2014 he was awarded the Adelaide Comedy "Peer's Choice" Award and in the following year took out Adelaide Comedian of the year. Described as an effective storyteller and a larrikin, Leigh has proven to be a crowd favourite to a broad audience and has supported the likes of Sam Simmons, Felicity Ward and Akmal Saleh.

Gerry O

Gerry O works as a comedian all around Australia and uses his fabulous vocal impersonations for guest appearances on radio in most states. He's winner of the most unusual talent in Adelaide for his comic impersonations of famous celebrities including Tina Turner, John Farnham and Anastacia and Kermit the Frog!

RAF PROJECT FUND IS OPEN UNTIL 23 AUGUST

There's two working weeks left to get your applications in for the Project Fund, with up to $30,000 for regional organisations and $15,000 for individuals. Applications close 23 August 2019

The fund is designed to benefit regional and remote artists, arts workers, audiences and communities by supporting and promoting participation in, and access to, art and culture.

Funding can cover artist, arts worker and cultural adviser fees, travel, accommodation, materials, venue, equipment hire and insurance. Activity in all art forms including visual arts, theatre, dance, creative writing, music, multi-media and cultural projects including recording and preservation of language & stories are eligible.

If you've got a great project idea, or you know someone who does, make sure to head on over to www.countryartswa.asn.au/projectfund for more information, or give us a call on 1800 811 883 (Regional Freecall) or 9200 6200.

The Project Fund is a stream of the Regional Arts Fund, an Australian Government initiative supporting the arts in regional and remote Australia. The Australian Government's Regional Arts Fund is provided through Regional Arts Australia.

NIGHT FIELDS YOUTH PROGRAM: LET'S ACT, BELONG, COMMIT.

Friday, 2 August saw the commencement of Term 2 of another exciting program of the Stephen Michael Foundation's Night Fields Program.

The Kojonup youth were enthusiastic and keen to participate in the sports on offer. It was another fantastic turnout with 22 kids and our thanks to the Rotary Club of Kojonup for showing their support of the program by cooking the sausage sizzle for everyone. This was a good opportunity for our youth to interact with members of one of our core community service groups and we hope to continue to build this further.

Through the Stephen Michael Foundation there were 2 sports on offer being football and basketball with Wayne Roser co-ordinating the football and Courtney Donnelley who came all the way from Narrogin to co-ordinate the basketball.

Next week squash will become a permanent option with hockey and netball on offer also. Thank you to James Kelly for co-ordinating squash and Jesse Kirwen from the Kojonup District High School for supplying the squash equipment.

If you are aged between 6-18 years and would like to participate in this program, the event is free, so please come down after school to the Sports Precinct. There's also free food and giveaways on the day.

We would also like to encourage members of the community to come along and have a look to see what the program is all about and we'll even provide you with a hot cup of tea or coffee.

ABC HEYWIRE 2020 COMPETITION LAUNCHED

Young Regional Australians – Tell Your Story And Change Your World

The ABC is calling on people aged 16-22 to share their experiences of life in regional Australia for the opportunity to be featured on the ABC and win a life changing trip to Canberra for the Heywire Regional Youth Summit in February 2020.

Anyone with a story to tell about life outside of the big cities is encouraged to enter, with entries of any medium accepted, including text, video, audio and photo. The competition officially opens on 24 July 2019.

Forty winners will receive an all-expenses-paid trip to the Heywire Regional Youth Summit and will take part in workshops. The Summit gives winners an opportunity to inspire each other, develop ideas and share stories to help make life in regional Australia even better.

Past winners have used Heywire as a springboard to make positive change in their communities by exploring issues around agriculture, mental health, youth employment, disability and strengthening culture, just to name a few.

ABC Director of Regional & Local, Judith Whelan said “the Heywire competition is an important platform for young people living outside of the big cities to have their voices heard.”

We're proud to celebrate the stories of a new generation of Australian storytellers.” Minister for Agriculture, Bridget McKenzie encourages young people to get involved and share their stories.

“I am always inspired by the depth of capacity of young people from rural and regional Australia,” Minister McKenzie said.

“Heywire helps to showcase the next generation of young leaders.

“There is a positive future for the regions with young leaders so passionate and proud of where they come from.”

Former Heywire winner, Bethany Evans, says “It's an enormous privilege to be a Heywire alumni and to see how the program has continued to grow and give young rural Australians a platform for discussion and change.”

“For me, my experience as a Heywire winner reaffirmed how lucky I am to call rural Australia home despite the unique challenges we face. The opportunity to meet and form lasting friendships with other rural youth from across Australia has been priceless.”

“The sense of empowerment and conviction that rural voices matter and deserve to be heard at all levels of Australian society is something that has stayed with me always.”

Get your entries in via the Heywire website by 16 of September.

Heywire acknowledges the support of the Australian Government through the Department of Agriculture and Water Resources; the Department of Education and Training; the Department of Infrastructure, Transport, Cities and Regional Development; the Department of Social Services; the Department of Health; and AgriFutures Australia.

Snow White (AKA Kat) helped the children with making their Crowns and Tiara's, they were so full of gems and glitter, they really were little Princes and Princesses. Snow White then read a story to the children as they enjoyed the fresh fruit and cheese.

Some of our themes this term are...Ocean, Clay, Father's Day, Farm Trucks & Fairy Lights. We have some incredible craft ideas for the kids to really enjoy and to get the creative juices going.

This term we also have number & letter booklets for the children to enjoy and they will be taken home at the end of the year to share their amazing work with family & friends.

See you on the 6th, 14th & 21st August at 10am-12pm @ KDHS Kindy.

Our next Play in the Park will be The 28th August @ APEX Park at 10am-12pm.

A very quiet Story Time last week, I had the absolute pleasure to read to two little hero's in training, at different times. I hope you have been reading to your little ones at home.....it's a secret power

Here are some prompts to start discussions with kids:

RABBIT SAMPLES WANTED TO ENHANCE YOUR RABBIT MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS

Rabbits impact on Australian agriculture, ecological communities and 321 nationally threatened species. With spring on the way, that usually means more rabbits are about, but it can also mean an increase in virus outbreaks and a fresh opportunity for you to contribute to ongoing rabbit research.

In Australia, there are now a number of circulating rabbit viruses which we want to monitor - this includes the Czech (released in the 90s) and Korean (released in 2017) strains of RHDV1, along with RHDV2 (an exotic strain discovered in 2015).

Through its members and partners, the Centre for Invasive Species Solutions is coordinating Australia's largest rabbit biocontrol collaborative research program, which includes the National Rabbit Biocontrol Monitoring program to track virus impact.

Understanding when and where viruses are most productive can help inform farmers and the community on strategic rabbit control in their area and ensure their control has the best impact on the populations.

To build on Australia's rabbit biocontrol map, the team are still collecting data and samples. If you find a dead rabbit please record it on RabbitScan (on your computer or via the app) and submit a sample for testing!

ACCESS RABBITSCAN HERE <https://www.feralscan.org.au/rabbitscan/default.aspx>

When you report disease on RabbitScan we send you everything you need to collect a sample, including a reply paid envelope to get the sample back to us. Once the results are in, you will get a notification updating you on the findings.

It's a very straight forward and easy process that doesn't take much time. You can submit as many samples as you like, the more the better, even if they come from the same location.

Recording and submitting rabbit samples is critical to the tracking and monitoring of RHDV in the environment as well as the impact of the exotic strain RHDV2. By adding to this record base you are contributing to the development of improved best practice methods for controlling rabbit populations in Australia.

Thanks,

The RHD Boost team

The current National Rabbit Biocontrol Collaborative Research Program coordinated through the Centre for Invasive Species Solutions is supported by the Australian Government, NSW DPI, PIRSA, Arthur Rylah Institute VIC, CSIRO, Meat and Livestock Australia and Australian Wool Innovation.

SHARP RUSH ERADICATION, CAN IT BE DONE?

Then Natural Resource Management Advisory Committee have been interested in removing Sharp Rush for several years and wanted to share some stories from landowners in the district about their efforts to get rid of the weed.

Name: Sharon Ramel

Target weed: Sharp Rush

How long have you been trying to remove Sharp Rush from your property?

I started manually removing sharp bush on our infrequent visits to the farm in 2015. There were a small number in the front regeneration project on the farm so manual removal worked well. At the same time, I started monitoring the other side of that area (there is a dam and brook flowing into it). Again, manual removal was and still is used. I have and continue to monitor removing a few every year. There were a few hundred to begin with - mostly small so easy to deal with. This is a rare photo dated 10th April, 2015.

We were coming down here from Perth for revegetation projects - fencing, planting and controlling bridal creeper, cape tulip and sharp rush within those areas. At the time we noticed one particular year in a paddock were once we had a few that they had literally exploded in numbers, investigation in 2017 when we finally moved here shocked us as there were two dams with creeks and a swamp choked by the proliferation of them. At one of the properties borders they were so thick and tall; I could not walk through. I went out on the quad bike with my trusty mattock and came home in disbelief at how this had gotten to this magnitude.

There was one other significant (but smaller than above) area around the fresh water soak, creek and dam heading down to Tone Rd. On one side of a farm fence line I dug them out - 100's of them. The other side they were too thick and it is sinky wet in there!

How many methods have you used, what are they and how effective were they?

Digging, fire, fire & scalping, spraying and spraying followed by fire.

Digging is definitely the most effective IF you get the entire plant. The areas I have dug out (2 out of the five areas they had fewer weeds to start with) has seen minimal re-growth.

Spraying is so hit and miss as you need to wet every bit of the reed. Jorn decided to help in 2017/18 and didn't believe me - although we swept through every large area of weeds with them not being drenched it was not as effective. We then followed up going through again on the quad and spraying individual plants thoroughly.

We have burned them twice - once very unsuccessfully - they quadrupled and became so dense they were impenetrable. We clearly burned at the wrong time of the year. Plus, we burned them around a fresh water lake as we didn't want to compromise the water quality....Very unsuccessful as again they proliferated and we lost trees to the fire, Jorn did follow up and scalped a small area - this actually worked with minimal reoccurrence on the scaled area.

The fresh water lake before and after treatment.

Fire - we follow up burned just before the beginning of the fire season last spring on 2018 - this has been effective in reducing the height and we intend to spray and burn (and dig out lesser colonies).

Why do you think it is important to remove Sharp Rush from your property?

It is incredibly invasive and difficult to remove once established. The seed bank is horrendous. Whilst I hear from quite a few farmers that "its a bit of feed for the sheep", I don't think the sheep find it palatable enough to keep it from spreading and is not worth it in the long term. We have watched its significant spread throughout the south west in the 10 years I have been coming down here to the farm.

How does it make you feel now that you have removed it all?

That we have a long way to go..... this happened under our watch..... this weed is trouble. We have investigated how we could manage holistically – i.e. cow, sheep, pig food - however none of them have a taste for it.

Sharon and Jorn talking about Sharp Rush Management on a field trip held in 2018.

Let's Go on a Bug Hunt - Celebrating World Environment Day 2019

Thanks to the Forest Products Commission Community Support Program on the 31st July, the Year 1 and 2 classes from the Kojonup District High School enjoyed a trip to the Myrtle Benn Flora and Fauna Sanctuary.

With the help of Chris Lewis, students hunted for bugs, animal tracks and markings and birds. They learnt how to use binoculars and magnifying glasses, identifying different species of birds, and had lots of fun in the great outdoors.

Many thanks to Alison Watson for helping to coordinate the event, accompanying teachers and education assistant's, James the bus driver and Travis from the Kojonup Bus Service.
